The anxiety of the Times to work Indiana limestone for all it is worth in behalf of a senatorial aspirant should not lead it into imprudent speech, The work of THE GAZETTE in behalf of Texas, the pride of THE GAZETTE in Texas, are well known, and the organ of no senatorial candidate can detract rom the truth, or the daily service of THE GAZETTE. The contract with the capital builders provided for limestone as per the sample filed. The legislaof granite-Texas granite-and the question was resolved into one of the use of inferior Texas limestone or superior Indiana limestone. The intereats of Texas demand the use of the superfor article, and THE GAZETTE advocates the use of it, even while it would be glad to see Texas spend a an half million more to have the capitol constructed of granite-Texes granite. as any newspaper in the state of Texas, but it would not favor the use of an Inferior Texas limestone in the capital building any more than it would favor the use of the longhorn bull at the A. & M. college in preference to the thoroughbreds that are imported. There is such a thing as too much sentiment-a sickly sentimentality-which is impractical, if not foolish. THE GAZETTE recognizes the great Texas stone. For this reason THE GA-ZETTE would prefer to see the capitol constructed of Texas granite. But the pride of THE GAZETTE in Texas is not of that kind which would see a state capitol, which is intended for the people of Texas and to endure for all time. constructed of an inferior article simif that effort doesn't prove a boom-
